THE PROPOSED REPARATIONS CONFERENCE.

SOME OUTSPOKEN AMERICAN OPINION.
(Reuter's Service)

Washington, October 30.
The Republican leader, Senator McCormick, after a visit to White House, declared that the American members of the proposed commission of experts on reparations must include a majority of those opposing the League of Nations and foreign entanglements. The American representatives must be realists and know European politics; otherwise, America will lose her cash credit.
The New York newspapers do not fear that M. Poincaré's speech will wreck the proposed Reparations Conference. Some are of opinion that M. Poincaré is seeking votes rather than an agreement.
The New York Times says on the main point M. Poincaré showed that he perfectly agreed with Mr. Hughes that the conference should be purely advisory.
The New York World says if France officially imposes the conditions which M. Poincaré foreshadowed, Britain and America would be confronted with a new situation, for they cannot take a step implying recognition of the legality of the Ruhr occupation and cannot refuse to enquire into the total Germany can pay.
The Tribune says there is no reason for gloom. M. Poincaré's plain speaking will help towards a solution.
What Britain Thinks.
London, October 30.
The Cabinet continued its consideration of the reparations question. It is generally felt that a meeting of Allied experts is better than nothing. While no official communication has been received from the United States, it is thought that America, similarly to Britain, desires to proceed with the best method attainable of working for a solution of the reparations problem.
Another French Note.
Paris, October 30.
The Ambassadors' Conference has decided to send a fresh Note to the German Government insisting on a resumption of inter-Ally military control in Germany.

TARIFF REFORM AGAIN.

MR. BALDWIN DECLARES FOR PROTECTION.

London, October 30.
In the course of a speech at Swansea, Mr. Baldwin declared that he was having the detailed application of the principles of economic policy he announced at Plymouth thoroughly examined. He strongly advocated a policy of protection on the ground of the necessity of protecting the standard of life in this country, particularly during the present unstable conditions of the world. He intimated that when the time came he would appeal to the electors, and finally declared that he would stand or fall in the cause of fighting unemployment.
"Before Many Months."
London, October 30.
Sir Worthington Evans, speaking at the Cluddersfield, said: "Before many months" the electors might have an opportunity of expressing their opinion on unemployment. They could not wait for the slow operation of measures under the export credit scheme. The Government was going all out on a vigorous policy. Agriculture must be assisted. The provisions of the Safeguarding of Industries Act would be speeded up, but that would be insufficient. We must have a tariff to protect the home market.

FRENCH HELP FOR JAPAN.

GIFT OF A HOSPITAL.

Toulon, October 30.
The Government has instructed the Chief Naval Surgeon to organise and present to the Japanese Government a hospital of five hundred beds, subscriptions for which were raised by newspapers. The hospital will be installed at Tokyo. The French Government is also supplying clothes to refugees, and M. Bélot will arrange a relief mission which will sail for Japan from Marseilles on November 2nd aboard the steamer Paul Lacat.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES IN TURKEY.

London, October 30.
Reuter learns that with the departure of the British troops from Constantinople the situation of the Russian refugees there is again precarious. The evacuation of those whose political associations have made it dangerous for them to remain is proceeding satisfactorily. Three thousand were evacuated in August and September, making a total of 20,000 evacuated since the League of Nations intervened on their behalf. There are 7,000 still to be dealt with.
France heads the list of countries which have given hospitality to the refugees, taking 1,451. The United States comes next, with 761, whereas only three women and no men have been sent to Britain.

U. S. RAILWAY FREIGHTS.

New York, October 30.
A conference of the executives of a hundred railways have informed President Coolidge of their disagreement with his plan to readjustment freight rates on coal and grain with a view to differentiating between export and domestic uses.

EARTHQUAKE IN SPAIN.

Madrid, October 30.
A sharp earthquake shook near Logroño opened cracks in the road. Sulphurous fumes stopped work at the stone quarries.

NEW TURKISH CABINET.

Constantinople, October 30.
Ismet Pasha has accepted the offer of President Mustapha Kemal to form a Cabinet.

CHINESE MISSION IN PARIS.

An official Chinese mission has arrived to enquire into economic, commercial and industrial matters.

HONGKONG DELUGED

Over 12 Inches of Rain in Eight Hours.

MANY LANDSLIDES: CITY FLOODED.

WOMAN AND CHILD KILLED IN THIRD STREET.

Boulder Crashes Through Peak House.

A torrential downpour of rain, which reached its height in the early hours of this morning, has visited the Colony during the past twenty-four hours, and caused fatalities, landslides, widespread damage and great dislocation of business and traffic.
The heavy rain began yesterday morning soon after ten o'clock and, although the day was mostly fine, the downpour recommenced after dinner last night and continued with great intensity until past nine o'clock this morning. During the 24 hours from 10 a.m. yesterday until 10 a.m. this morning no less than 15.91 inches of rain were recorded at the Royal Observatory, the heaviest fall for one hour being 2.82 inches, which was registered between 4.30 and 5.30 this morning.
During the eight hours from 10.30 p.m. last night to 6.30 a.m. this morning the fall measured 12.57 inches, nearly a record for all time and certainly a record for the month of October. At Pokfulam and Tytam nearly similar records were taken. At the Matilda Hospital, 16.50 inches were recorded in 24 hours, whilst two inches were recorded in half an hour.
As was only to be expected, such a downpour wrought havoc all over the Colony. Below will be found details of the damage. Fortunately, there was a very light casualty list, the only fatality of which we have learned being the death of a woman and child, who were washed down Third Street and picked up dead in Des Voeux Road.

IN THE CITY.

So heavy was the fall of rain that the drains and nullahs were inadequate to carry away the floods of water which came tumbling down the hillsides. At two this o'clock this morning the lower roads of the city were flooded to a depth, in some places, of over two feet. Queen's Road, Des Voeux Road, and the adjacent streets were converted into rivers, resulting in the flooding of shops, offices and basements. This morning the town presented an unusual appearance, roads being covered to a considerable depth with sand and debris washed down Lee House Street, Wyndham Street, etc. In some places the thoroughfares were almost impassable to motor traffic, and gangs of coolies, organised with great promptitude by the Public Works Department, were busy in effecting clearances.
The basements of the International Banking Corporation, Messrs. Donnelly and Whyte, the Hongkong Hotel, Messrs. A. S. Watson and Co., Ltd., and practically every shop in Queen's Road and Des Voeux Road were flooded with sand-laden water, the amount of damage done to stocks and fittings being considerable. The Fire Brigade under the C.S.P. (Mr. E.D.C. Wolfe) were kept busy to-day pumping out basements, the International Bank and Messrs. Donnelly and Whyte requiring perhaps the most attention in this direction.
In Des Voeux Road, past the Post Office corner, the water reached a great height, over six inches of water being found on the floor of Messrs. Whiteaway and Laidlaw when the manager opened his store this morning. There was mud slush everywhere down town, for all the world as though a river flood had subsided. The new A.P.C. building basement had six feet of water in it at one time.
At the bottom of Wyndham Street water rushing down an underground nullah burst through the roadway, tearing a great hole many feet wide and throwing aside great slabs of asphalt and granite as though they had been sheets of cardboard. This torrent bore down Pedder Street, converting it into a fast-flowing river. Battery Path was nearly blocked by a landslide, whilst there are reports of landslides from practically every district of the Colony.

A BUSY P.W.D.

Seen this morning, by a representative of the Telegraph, Mr. H. E. Goldsmith, in charge of roads at the P.W.D., stated that many reports of landslides and blocked roads had been received. Quine Road was blocked at two points, one just above the station, caused by a big boulder of earth from Robinson Road on to the path which runs through the Catholic Cathedral compound. Trees and lamps were brought down and the path totally blocked, such huge quantities of rubbish being washed on to Quine Road as to make a foot of mud on the roadway. This morning our representative found a chauffeur who had tried to drive his car through, digging his car wheels out. There was also a big blockage near the Netherlands Hospital. Mr. Goldsmith added that gangs of coolies, specially brought up from the Government quarry at Quarry Bay, were being detailed to clear all main roads as soon as possible and he hoped traffic would be possible by mid-day.
Among the roads reported to be blocked were Stubbs Road, Barker Road, Findlay Road, Magazine Gap Road, Tregunter Path, Taiipo Road (a breach at the 9th mile, but not serious enough to merit the closing of the road), Conduit Road, Bowen Road, Robinson Road, Park Road (a big landslide just above the London Mission), Seymour Road, Mount Kellett Road, Mosque Street, Pokfulam Road etc.
At Magazine Gap Road, for about 200 yards, half the road has been washed away, causing a trench fully five feet deep. On Chamberlain Road, where the new motor road is being constructed to the Peak Hotel, great holes were made and the trolley rails left sticking up in mid-air. There are particularly big falls on Robinson Road and at the back of Belcher's Street, whilst the number of minor landslides all over the Colony is too great to permit of individual enumeration. Main roads are being cleared first and it will be several days before the work of cleaning up is completed.

CONDUIT AGAIN BROKEN.

One of the most serious happenings was the break caused in the conduit on Bowen Road, which was swept away by the heavy rainfall after the big August typhoon. The gap had been temporarily repaired by the construction of a flume, but last night's deluge broke down the flume causing an interruption of the Colony's main water supply. Mr. R. M. Henderson, of the Water Authority's office, told a Telegraph representative this morning that the break was not so serious as on the last occasion, but the rider main service had to be put into operation and the Colony thus put on short supply. A special gang of men have been detailed for the work of repair and, by working late, it is hoped to get the breach repaired by tomorrow. There has also been a big slip at the Eliot filter beds, done to the Racecourse. As it is, Pokfulam Road, and this will probably affect the supply of water to the western end of the town. Every effort is being made to repair the damage.

WOMAN AND CHILD KILLED.

The only fatality recorded so far is that which befel a Chinese woman and young child in Third Street. The street was converted into a torrent and the inhabitants made fearful for their safety. When the downpour was at its height, a woman, who thought the house was collapsing, attempted to take herself and child across the road to a friend's house. In the darkness she stepped into the side channel, which was a roaring cascade, with the result that she was carried off her feet and washed (with the child in her arms) down the street. She and the baby were eventually found in Des Voeux Road, both having been drowned and rather badly knocked about.
An Indian watchman who had taken shelter in a matshed on Robinson Road, had a narrow escape when the shed collapsed during the storm's height. He was slightly injured.
Two women and four children were rescued from a sorry predicament by police of the No. 7 Station. The front portion of the wall which surrounds Saiyungpun School, Pokfulam Road, was washed away and the servants' quarters, which are just behind, were badly flooded. There was about five feet of water in one of the downstairs quarters and cries were heard from the occupants. The police found two women and four children keeping themselves afloat by hanging on to bed-boards and Inspector Grant, by the use of a ladder and boards, managed to haul them out to safety. He reports that Pokfulam Road, Centre Street, and Eastern Street were just hillside torrents for the best part of the night.

PEAK HOUSE STOPS BOULDER.

A most alarming experience befel Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ram, and Miss Ram, of "The Cottage," 142 The Peak, during the early hours of this morning. It was just after four o'clock that Mr. Ram was awakened by the violent shaking of the house and the falling of walls, doors and windows. Hurriedly switching on the electric light and making investigations, Mr. Ram discovered that a huge boulder, weighing many tons had toppled down the hillside and had come to rest by knocking down the back wall of the house, demolishing the verandah and settling itself half in the drawing room and half outside. Rain was descending in torrents, and a stream of mud was flowing right through the house. Nothing could be done but to get together some clothing and wait for dawn, and when this at last came, Mr. and Mrs. Ram repaired to the Peak Hotel, where they are at present staying. The house will be uninhabitable for some weeks.
The boulder appears to have broken loose just above Findlay Road, below the Commodore's bungalow. In its career down the hillside it carried away part of Findlay Road, part of Plantation Road and was only stopped by crashing into the back wall of "The Cottage," the occupants of which have had a very narrow escape.

IN HAPPY VALLEY.

As usual, the heavy rains resulted in serious flooding in Happy Valley, particularly at the Wongneichong end. The road was rendered absolutely impassable for a time by the streams of water pouring across, and near the cemetery there was so much earth and rubble washed down the hillside that the fairway was completely blocked. The tram service round the Valley had in consequence to be suspended. All this caused a great deal of inconvenience to residents in the neighbourhood.
Very fortunately, the new wall built at the place where the nullah was breached last August, has stood the test, else further serious damage would have been done to the Racecourse. As it is, a good deal of sand which had been stacked up beside the track has been washed across the course again, necessitating further work to get the track into condition once more. Portions of the Racecourse were under more than a foot of water this morning.
At the back of Wongneichong village, a considerable amount of the reclamation has been washed down into the nullah and the lower level, so that several days work at filling, further dredging, and many more tons of earth, will be required to replace what one night's rain has swept away. The general damage here, on the roadways, the Racecourse, and the cemeteries of different denominations, serves to re-emphasise the need for a thorough reorganisation of the Happy Valley drainage system.
Considerable quantities of silt now lie opposite the Racecourse grandstand, and portions of the rails at the lower end have been damaged. The silt and sand across Wongneichong Road near the cemetery side of the Valley had not been cleared away even at a late hour this afternoon, and the tram service had to be diverted to the other side, the cars turning back at the Dragon Motor Co's garage. The bowling green of the Police Club, and the grounds of the Civil Service Club and Craigongower have suffered severely. The football ground is a temporary marsh.

MORE ABOUT THE RAINFALL.

It must be at least fifteen years since there was such a heavy fall of rain, said Dr. Sanders of the Matilda Hospital, to a Telegraph representative this morning. The fall at the Hospital was no less than 16.50 inches between 9 a.m. yesterday and 9 a.m. to-day. The intensity of the fall was the highest he had ever known. Between three o'clock and 3.30 this morning, exactly two inches were recorded, and it is interesting to compare this with the official record of the Colony, which is 3.48 inches in one hour. For one half-hour, at any rate, the fall was at the rate of four inches per hour—an extraordinarily high rate.
At Tytam Tuk the fall was only 2.50 inches, but at Pokfulam it was 15.95 from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. At the Botanical Gardens the fall measured just over 11 inches.

REVIEW OF ACTIVITIES.

The annual meeting of the Hongkong Boy Scouts Association was held at the Theatre Royal last evening, the Hon. Mr. P. H.
Holyoak presiding. Among those present was His Excellency the Governor (Sir Edward Stubbs, K.C.M.G.), Chief Scout.In presenting the annual report
the Commissioner, the Rev. G. T.
Walgrave, said that on September 30th, 1923, there were nine troops of Land Scouts with two others in the process of formation. The Sea Scouts were registered as a troop. There was only one patrol of rovers and one Wolf Cub Pack was in abeyance owing to lack of a suitable officer.
The Rover Patrols owed their drop in numbers to the fact that during the summer several of their members who were drawn from among University students had left the University. The total number of scouts was 169 which showed a decrease, but this they did not view with any apprehension, as during the year troops were instructed to revise their registers and insist that all scouts who desired to be considered as such should prove their competency by regular attendance and steady work. The result was increased efficiency all round.

The Personnel.

Dealing with officers the Commissioner said there were seven warranted Scout Masters, six warranted Assistant Scout Masters, and two warranted Wolf Cub Officers. He remarked that the Association badly needed men who would give up time to this most enjoying game of scouting for boys.There had been a great advance in scoutcraft during the year and a high standard of efficiency was reached. There were now twenty-seven first-class scouts, and above that rank one King's Sea Scout. There were some of these at the commencement of the year. In proficiency badges, ambulance, various handicraft, etc., there had also been much work done with satisfactory results. There was no doubt that the presentation of the Prince of Wales Banner for competition had been a great incentive to troops and had encouraged troop spirit.Referring to camping the Rev.
Walgrave said that most of the camping carried out had been of the week-end or holiday variety.
The frequent occurrences of typhoon weather prevented camps of any length being held.

The Sea Scouts.

In regard to the Sea Scouts he said that the branch showed signs of gradual growth. The gift of a yacht by H.E. and Lady Stubbs had proved most valuable, whilst other friends had also given a motor rowing boat as well as a small dinghy for the yacht. Five out of the eight members had qualified to use the yacht. By courtesy of members of the Hongkong Royal Yacht Club the Sea Scouts, under certain very reasonable restrictions, were allowed to take part in Club races.Dealing with finances, Mr. Wal-grave said the Association was now drawing very largely on its capital and they desired to see the number of subscribers greatly increased.
The main expense at present was the upkeep and rent of the Pine Wood Training Camp. They had hoped to make troops absolutely self-supporting after giving them an initial start, but it appeared in the case of some of the poorer troops that an annual grant might have to be made.The Commissioner then went on to deal with the main events of the year, including two rambles on the main land during the Christmas holidays, andthe Jamboree in April. In May the competition rally was held at the Race Course, whilst in August a Scouters' Training Camp was held at Pine Wood.

Want of Officers.

The outlook, said the speaker, was decidedly favourable, but the principal hindrance was lack of officers. He mentioned that one troop could be formed and registered at once in connection with the Ellis Kadoorie School for Indians,
the Headmaster of the Kowloon British School had also informed him that he would welcome the formation of a troop there provided a Scout Master could be found. At Tai-po the Headmaster of the Government School was at work getting a troop together there. He concluded by making an urgent appeal for officers and teachers briefly on the activities of each troop.Mr. C. H. Blason, the hon.
Treasurer, then submitted the accounts which showed a credit balance of $8,000 in fixed deposit, and about $1,000 in the working accounts.The election of officers for the current year followed and resulted as follows: President, Hon. Mr. P.
H. Holyoak; Vice President, Mr.
R. Hancock; Secretary, Mr. A.
White; and Treasurer, Mr. C. H.
Blason.All higher officers of the troops were re-elected.Immediately after the meeting a series of lantern pictures, prepared by Mr. Blason, were exhibited, these depicting different phases of the growth of the Boy Scouts movement and various forms of activities indulged in by Hongkong scouts. The Theatre was almost filled by boy scouts and their friends. H.E. the Governor was among the audience. To the "civilian" element the pictures were specially interesting, showing as they did the many kinds of handicraft taught to the boys.

Presentation of Banner.

Following the exhibition the Governor was requested by the Commissioner to present the Prince of Wales banner to the winning troop, the ceremony taking place on the stage, on which the Sixth Troop (Ellis Kadoorie School) and the Sea Scouts, who tied for the first place assembled.After explaining that the banner was awarded to the troop obtaining most points in contests arranged in connection with the scout rallies during the year, for progress, etc., the Rev. Walgrave said two troops came very close together in the competition. One troop worked at a very great advantage which was not enjoyed to the same extent by the other troop.
The Committee, therefore, felt that a verdict for trying would be fair.
On being asked if they would claim the banner, which they had every right to do, the spokesman of the Sea Scouts said he considered the Sixth Troop deserved the banner. Subject to His Excellency's consent the Committee proposed to allow the Sea Scouts and the Sixth Troop to hold the banner each for six months, the troop to be called the Governor's troop during the period the banner is held by them.

The Governor's Speech.

The Governor said that before handing over the banner he would like, on behalf of the audience,
to express his gratitude to the Rev.
Walgrave for the interesting exhibition and to Mr. Blason for the admirable photographs he had made. The pictures shown showed clearly how much good the Boy Scouts movement had been doing to the boys physically. They were extremely fit and happy in the pictures. He was pleased to note that three life saving medals had been earned by Hongkong boys this year.
It was a very commendable sport-

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

GERMAN UNREST.

Dresden, Oct. 30.
After ejecting ministers from Government buildings the Reichswehr occupied the Post Office and suppressed Communist newspapers. The Communists are trying to organize a general strike, which is opposed by the Socialists.

Aix-la-Chapelle, Oct. 30.
While a number of separatist leaders were busy issuing proclamations alleging that the Rhineland High Commission had acknowledged the Rhenish Republic, announcing that plunderers would be shot on sight, ordering shops to keep open, and promising the formation of economic boards with a view to providing work and food for peasants, the Eiffel district adopted drastic methods with a view to clearing out the separatists. As an example the separatist village burgomaster was dragged out of his bed and marched through village. He was compelled to kneel at intervals, and to swear to "never more commit treason." The separatist leader in another village was thrashed, stripped and tied to a tree and tarred. Separatists in many other villages were unable to leave their houses except under the protection of the French troops.

Cologne, Oct. 30.
The Archbishop of Cologne has appealed to Catholics everywhere to help to relieve distress in the Rhineland and Ruhr, especially by gifts of foodstuffs. He has also requested the occupation authorities to arrange for free transport or preferential facilities for relief supplies.

EARTHQUAKE INSURANCE.

Osaka, Oct. 30.
Japanese insurance companies in the Kanto districts including Tokyo and Yokohama recently announced their willingness to pay ten per cent. of the claims against them totalling approximately 1,500,000,000 yen in the devastated area, the Government assisting financially and guaranteeing the existing concerns to enable them to continue in business. Thus the interests of policy holders outside the devastated area will be protected. The underwriters in the Kansai districts including Osaka and Kobe met yesterday but did not reach an agreement. They will meet again Nov. 1, when it is believed they will agree to take the same course as the Kanto companies.

ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS.

London, Oct. 30.
A statement significant of Anglo-American relations was made by Ambassador Harvey at the Savoy Hotel at a complimentary banquet to celebrate Mr. T. P. O'Connor's seventy-fifth birthday. Mr. Harvey declared that many settlements had already been made and believed that the two or three outstanding would be disposed of before he sailed on November 3rd. His successor would have an opportunity to clear these between the United States and the British Empire.

HONGKONG WEDDING.

DORLING-LYSAUGHT.

The wedding took place at St. Joseph's Church yesterday of Mr. A. J. W. Dorling, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dorling of Fenton, Stoke-on-Trent, and Miss Kathleen Lysaught, the second daughter of Mrs. Lysaught and the late Mr. J. Lysaught of "Borokank" Shanghai.

The Rev. Father Augustin officiated.
The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. T. Murphy, and was attired in a dress of champagne satin trimmed with silver beads and orange blossom. She also wore a tulle veil with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white lilies and maiden hair fern.

Her two sisters, Margaret and Eileen, were her bridesmaids and they were dressed in cream satin trimmed with gold beads and pale blue ribbon with hats to match. They carried bouquets of pink roses and maiden hair fern. The bride's mother wore a dress of black champagne satin trimmed with black silk and lace with hat to match.

The duties of best man were carried out by Mr. Simpson of the Water Police.

A reception was later held at the Kowloon Hotel. The honeymoon is to be spent at Macau. The bride's going away dress was a Shanghai silk costume and blue hat trimmed with blue georgette.

The couple received many presents and among them were the following—From members of the Water Police, silver casket and entree dishes; C. I. D. Staff, silver tea service and spoons.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold curb bangle and the bride's to the bridegroom a pearl tiepin.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaids was gold pendants and brooches.

MODERN "HAZING."

Human Brute's Methode.

Shades of "Bully" Hayes and the notorious Yankee mates whose "hazing" propensities helped to make the fortunes of many a San Francisco and New York crimp, and incidentally break the bones and spirit of many a shanghaied sailorman in the bad old days! Our contemporary Nauticus, reports the hearing in the San Francisco Federal District Court of an action brought by a number of seamen against the owners of the American barquentine Rolph in respect of compensation for personal injuries sustained as a result of ill-treatment by the mate of the vessel. One of the plaintiffs had been blinded another rendered deaf, and two others had been somewhat less severely handled. The judge held that the employment of what our American contemporary calls "a noted thug" as mate rendered the vessel unseaworthy, and that the injuries received by the seamen were therefore caused by the unseaworthiness of the ship.

He awarded damages to the amount of $10,000 to the blind sailor, $3,500 to the one who was deaf, and $500 to each of the other two, stating that he had taken into consideration the implied privy of the master of the vessel, who, instead of laying information against the mate before the U.S. Consul at Antofagasta—the first port touched after the "hazing" took place—which would probably have resulted in the mate's being sent to the United States as a prisoner to stand trial for assault, he paid that "gentleman" off without saying anything at all. He forgot, however, that it is only dead men who tell no tales, and that in these enlightened days there is something considerably more tangible and powerful to look after the well-being of sailorman than the traditional "cherub that sits up aloft." The judge of the San Francisco Federal District Court is to be congratulated on his interpretation of the law in such a way as to punish a bully who is an obvious throw back to the days of Clarke Russell, and to indemnify the unfortunate seamen who suffered at his hands.—Ex.

BASEBALL WORSHIP.

Ruth's Name Inscribed On Tablet.

George Herman ("Babe") Ruth of the New York Americans, world's champion, declared to be the most valuable player to his team, has been awarded the American League trophy for the season, having received the highest possible number of points and setting a record that can be tied but never beaten.

Ruth was the unanimous choice of the committee appointed to select the American League player who has been of the greatest service to his team during the championship season, registering first place on every ballot—one from each of the eight cities in the circuit—for a total of 64 counts.

Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox stood second to Ruth in this year's contest with 37 points. He was named as the best player on the Chicago team by all eight of the committeemen.

Harry Heilmann of Detroit is rated third and Gerber of St. Louis is tied with Joe Sewell of Cleveland for fourth, each having 20 points.

Ruth's name will be inscribed on the 1923 tablet of the $100,000 monument to be erected in East Potomac Park at Washington.

RADIO NOTES AND NEWS.

The Question of Earth Connections.

An earth connection of low and constant high frequency resistance is of great value in wireless reception, and essential for transmission, says Popular Wireless Weekly. Not only will it tend towards stronger signals, but what is probably more important, selectivity will be greatly improved. The latter is not often realised, and now that reaction on the aerial circuit is prohibited during broadcasting hours, it is more than ever necessary that there shall be as little damping as possible in the aerial to earth circuit. Resistance in the aerial-earth circuit, whether it be at the point of earthing, in the earth lead, or in the windings of the inductance itself, causes damping of the oscillation in the circuit and this of course means that the tuning is broadened. It is surprising how sharply 2 L. O. can be tuned in the London area, using a simple circuit crystal receiver, provided that the high frequency resistance of the aerial circuit is kept low by winding the tuner with thick wire and using an efficient earth connection.

It is apparent therefore that it will be most useful to have some method whereby we can compare the high frequency resistance of different "earths," such as water mains, gas main, cistern, or buried plate. It might be thought that the best method to do this would be to tune in a station on the receiver, and then observe the length on each of the different earth connections. This is unsatisfactory, however, from many points of view. For instance, any slight change in wavelength produced by a different "earth," would necessitate retuning when the value of the test would be nil. Also it is very difficult to accurately note changes in the intensity of sounds which are separated by an interval of several seconds, representing the time during which the wires are being changed.

The method employed relies on the fact that different values of reaction are required to cause a simple autodyne circuit to oscillate, depending on the damping of the aerial to earth circuit. A simple single valve direct coupled reacting receiver should therefore be set up. The tuner should preferably have a rotary reaction coil, which should be provided with a pointer and scale. The filament and high tension voltages should be set to a fixed value for a four volt filament battery without rheostat may be used, and the grid leak should be of such a value that there is no apparent "overlap" present.

If everything is working properly it will be found that when the reaction coupling is increased, at a certain point on the scale the set will commence to oscillate, and when the coupling is loosened again the set cease to oscillate at exactly the same spot.

It may be explained here for the benefit of those who do not already know, that the effect of reaction on a circuit is to tend to neutralise resistance of that circuit to high frequency currents. If reaction is used to its utmost, the effect is to not only neutralise this resistance, but to actually produce a condition known as "negative" resistance. When in this condition the slightest impulse given to the circuit will set it oscillating at the frequency to which it is tuned, and these oscillations will build up to a certain value and continue theoretically indefinitely, after, it should be noted, the impulse has died out.

We may now proceed to test our variety of earth connections (and combinations of same) by simply connecting them up in turn, and noting the degree of reaction necessary in each case to cause oscillation. Of course those which require a large degree of reaction have a high resistance, and should be rejected. The conscientious experimenter need have no qualms about causing the set to oscillate, as in this case it is quite unnecessary to tune to a wavelength where any transmission is taking place.

As would be expected, the paralleling of two or more earth connections often results in one of lower resistance than either individually, but it is interesting to note that this is by no means always the case, notably where the leads are of widely differing lengths, thus, causing paths of different wave-length, a similar effect to that which occurs when the lead-in wire of a "T" type aerial is not taken from the centre of the horizontal component.

In conclusion it may be stated that the subject of earth resistances will be found most interesting and instructive, and will amply repay any trouble taken in experiment especially as emphasised before, now that direct reaction on to the aerial circuit is forbidden during broadcasting hours.

FRENCH AMATEURS ANNOYED.
The chief topic of conversation in French radio circles recently, silencing all talk between amateurs of neodyne, super heterodyne, super amplification, and all the other supers, has been the new Wireless Decree drawn up by the Postal and Telegraphic Department. When the terms of the decree became known a howl of protest was immediately raised, and the editor of that popular little paper L'Antenne went so far as to send a dissenting letter to the President of the Republic urging him not to sign the decree. But the decree was signed all the same.

Most of the clauses in it are reasonable enough, as precise regulations concerning the erection of receiving sets have long been wanted in France. One clause, however, is objected to, as it

Kinks O' The Links

Question:—Is there any case in which it is possible to re-tee a ball after a stroke has been played?

Answer:—After a stroke has been played, even though the club did not come into contact with the ball, which rolls from a tee, it is not possible to re-tee the ball because it is in play and must be played from its lie. Only when a ball falls or is knocked from the tee while a player is in the act of addressing it, has the player the right to re-tee same.

Question:—Is it permissible for a player to remove a loose impediment that is lying in front of his ball, regardless of the distance that it may be from same? Does it make a difference whether the ball is through the green or on the green as to the removal of a loose impediment?

Answer:—Through the green a player has a right to remove loose impediments that do not lie farther than a club length from the ball. If it is a greater distance than a club length he cannot remove same, unless it is on the putting green. A player is always within his rights in removing any loose impediment from the putting green that he feels will interfere with his next shot, whether his ball is on the green or not.

Question:—Do stymies apply in four-ball matches?

Answer:—Stymies do not apply in four-ball matches. In a four-ball match when on the putting green any player can have any other ball lifted or played at the option of its owner.

Question:—When a ball is lifted from "ground under repair" what is the proper procedure?

Answer:—The ball must be dropped as near as possible to where it lay, but not nearer the hole.

sounds the death-knell of the amateur experimenter. It fixes the tax on private sending stations at 100 francs a year per kilowatt and a further tax of 20 to 40 francs per year per watt measured at the source of supply.

This means, for example, that Radiola may have to pay between 40 and 500,000 francs per annum, and that the amateur with a home-made set of considerable experimental value may find himself faced with a tax-paper amounting to half as much as his set cost to erect. Unless the decree is modified the enthusiastic amateurs will have to close down their little stations, and this will, without a doubt, be a great pity, for the French amateur has done more for "T.S.F." than his Government—and that at a fraction of the millions which the latter has spent.

YOKOHAMA TO-DAY

Photographs by Our Own Correspondent.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1923.

(Left).—This should be a particularly worthwhile picture. It is the site of the British Consulate, Yokohama. After the fire men from H.M.S. Hawkins came ashore and cleaned away all the debris and then on the Consulate site they buried the remains of those of the staff who had perished. The names are given.

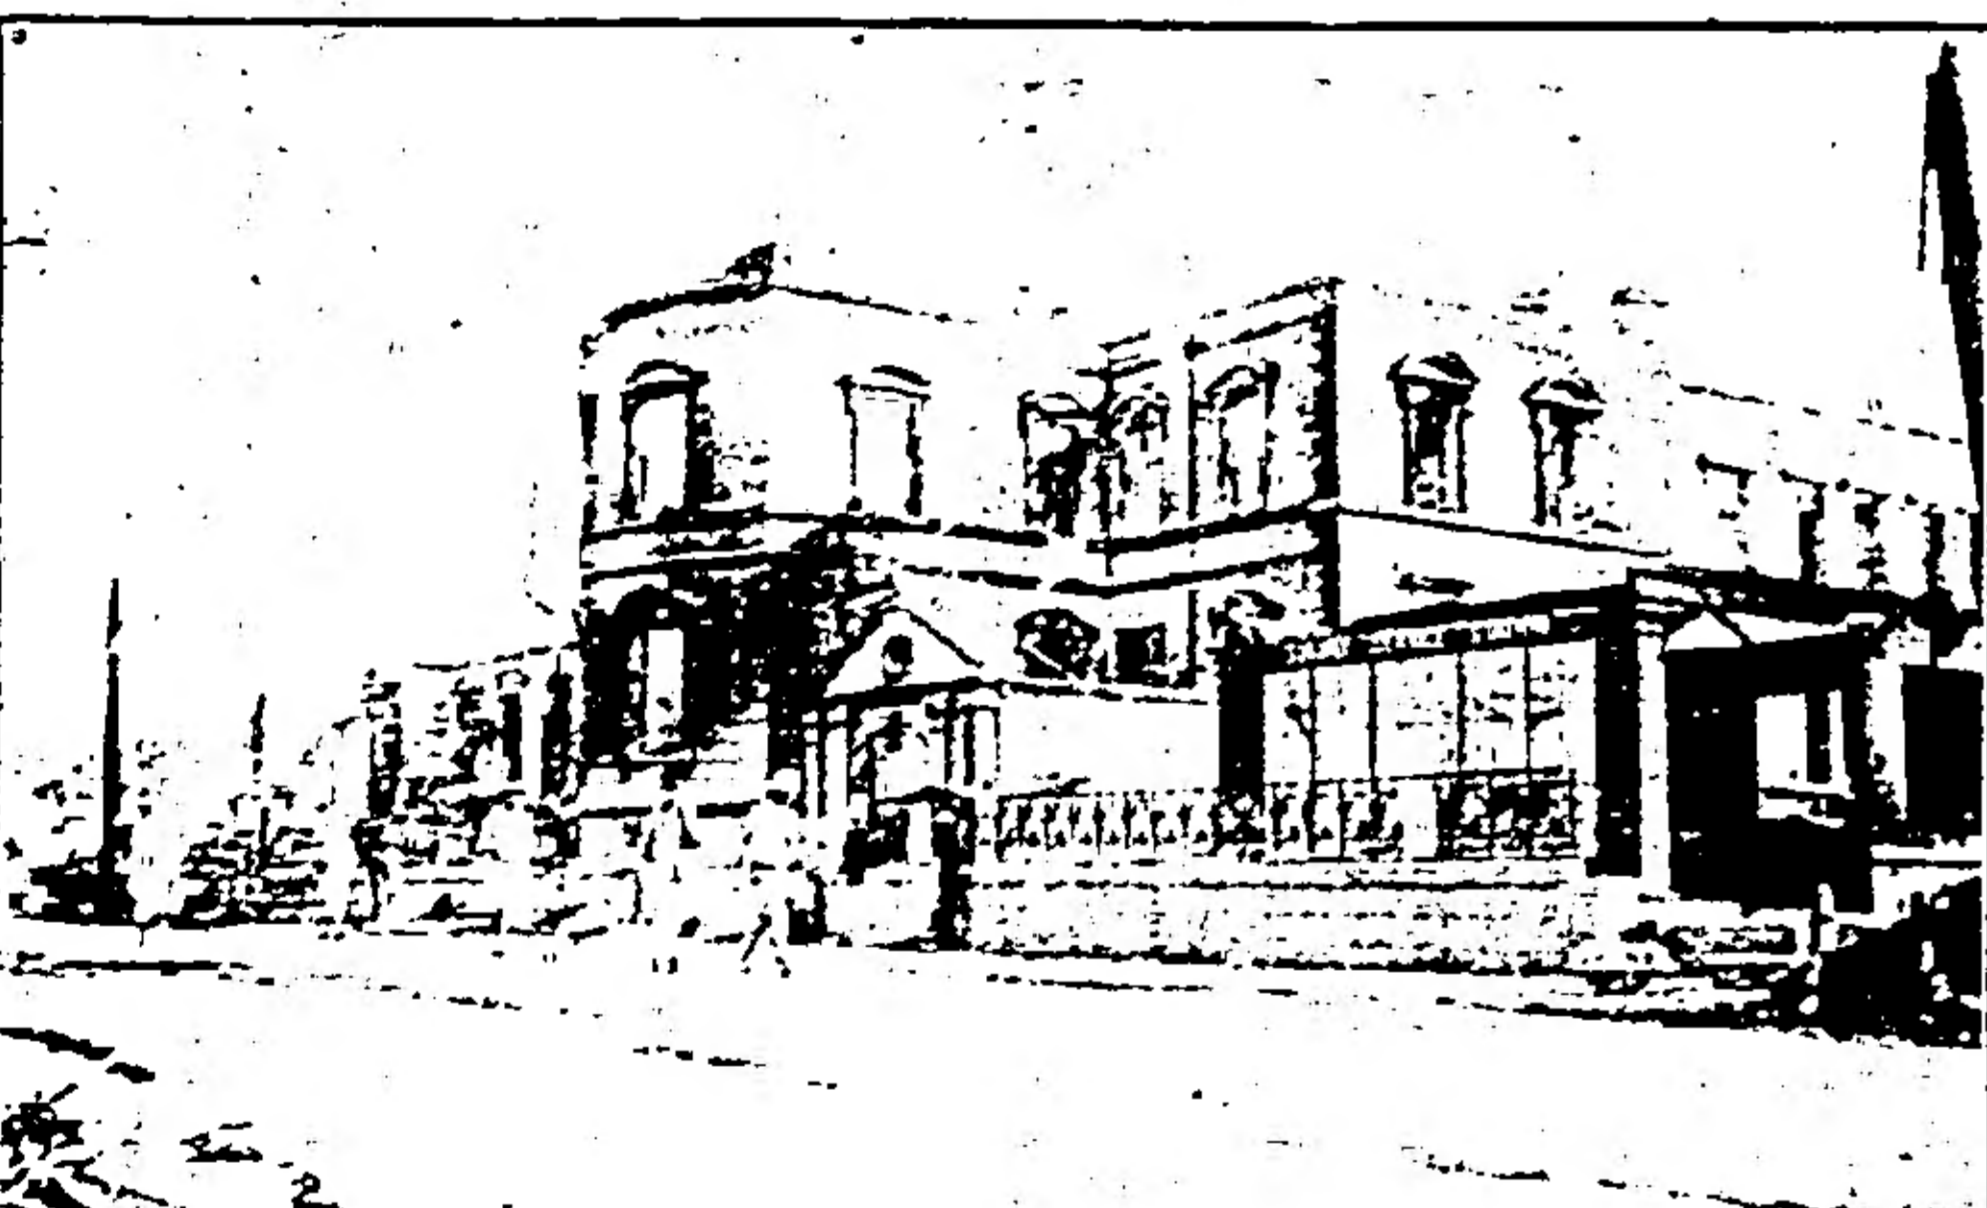

(Right).—A view on Tokyo's main business artery. The Ginza on which the leading shops were located.

(Left).—Ruins of Tokyo's Yoshiwara where 2,500 girls perished behind the stockade that surrounded this restricted district which covered about eight city blocks.

(Right).—This perhaps will come to be the one outstanding historic spot in Tokyo of the great disaster—the site of the Army Clothing Factory which included a big rectangle of open ground perhaps 200 yards by 150 yards in area in the heart of the Hongo district, Tokyo's great industrial centre. When the masses of people found themselves hemmed in on all sides by flames they sought safety on this common. It was in the exact centre of a vast rearing furnace and all perished. Fourteen days after the disaster when I was there thirty-four thousand eight hundred and some odd bodies had been burned here where they died and as the picture shows the work was still going forward. The white piles are what are left of the bones after burning and these dotted the whole area of the place besides filling many bins that had been erected. In the background is the long funeral pyre on which bodies wrapped in straw soaked oil were burning while behind it a group of Buddhist priests conducted funeral rites before a rude altar.

(Right).—Main Street paralleling the Bund Yokohama on which were located the leading foreign retail shops.

(Left).—An odd break. All of the building was gone save its chimney with the first and second story fireplaces exposed to the wind. On Water Street Yokohama.

(Right).—Shows how Tokyo began rebuilding within two weeks of the disaster. Nothing at all scarcely had been done at that time in Yokohama.

HONGKONG BOXING ASSOCIATION.

YESTERDAY'S ANNUAL MEETING.

Mr. J. Scott-Harston presided yesterday evening over the annual meeting of the Hongkong Boxing Association, held in Messrs Jardine, Matheson and Co's Board-room.

In his speech, the Chairman said members would notice that the Tournament account receipts had fallen by approximately $1,200. This however was entirely due to the fact that owing to the Fleet leaving the Colony earlier than usual last spring, no Novices Tournament could be held in April. General account receipts had also fallen slightly.
This was due to seven less subscriptions being received than the previous year and only two subscriptions being received for years other than the current one, as against seven. The surplus however carried to the balance sheet was only $28 less than in the previous year.

He asked members to pay their subscription when they received their first reminder. Last year no less than 300 reminders were sent out to several members and even then some thirty subscriptions were unpaid at the end of the year.

Referring to the Boxing, the chairman said the Heavyweight Championship was won in December by C. P. O. Callaghan who knocked out Private Alinworth (R.M.L.I.)
in the fifth round. The Middleweight Championship was won outright by A. B. Duncan the holder in March by knocking out Private Alinworth in the second round. Stoker P. O. Morgan won the Welterweight Championship outright by beating A. B. Dixon on points in December, and the Lightweight Championship was won A.
B. Chadwick who defeated Stoker
P. O. Morgan on points at the March Tournament after one of the best and most even contests seen in the Colony. In the coming Season they hoped to stage contests on November 12th, and dates had already been booked for a Saturday night in each month up to and including March. The vote unanimously carried.

EARTHQUAKE AT MANILA.

WORST TREMOR SINCE 1906.

Manila, Oct. 30.—A heavy earthquake shock was felt, followed by a shock in the provinces northward. No damage was done here, but details from the provinces have not been received. It was the worst tremor here since 1906.

Committee wished to express their thanks to the Hon. Mr. A. E. Lowe for auditing the Accounts and for permitting his name to be put forward for re-election.

There was one point in the report that he wished to rectify. Mr.
Murdoch expressed his wish to retire and Dr. Minett was subject to his consent, nominated as his successor. Dr. Minett, however, had informed the Secretary that until he gets acquainted with the local rules he would rather not take an official position, though he had very kindly put his services at the disposal of the Committee. Mr. Murdoch had, therefore, consented to withdraw his resignation. The Committee wished to place on record its obligations to Mr. Tinson who was retiring from the office of hon. secretary and treasurer, for his willing and efficient work during and since the formation of the Association. Mr. Harston then moved the adoption of the report and accounts.

The motion having been seconded, was agreed to unanimously.

Election of Officers.

Officers for the ensuing year
were elected as follows: Chairman,
Mr. R. M. Dyer; Vice Chairman,
Mr. J. Scott-Harston; Manager,
Mr. J. Brooks; Hon. Sec. and Treas., Mr. T. G. Bennett.

Committee: Messrs. F. C. Jenkin, S. I. Clarke, F. C. Hall and W. Ward.

Mr. A. R. Lowe was re-elected auditor.

This completed the business of the meeting.
Mr. G. Tinson moved a hearty vote of thanks to the chairman who, he said, had got up from his bed to come and preside. The vote unanimously carried.

SMALL POX.

LAST WEEK'S FIGURES.

After the small total of three cases for Saturday and Sunday, small-pox cases jumped in number to 11 for Monday. Of these 18 were on the island and one in Kowloon.
All were Chinese.

During the week ended Saturday, 19 cases were reported, but there were 71 deaths, some being of the previous week's list. One was Peruvian, one Belgian, one Spanish,
one British, and the rest Chinese.

In addition two Chinese and a Portuguese died from influenza, and another from cerebrospinal fever.
Four Chinese died from enteric,
One British case of puerperal fever
was reported.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

As a means of offence, an empty bottle is not necessarily always more dangerous than a full one.
This reflection comes to us on reading of a hectic episode that occurred at Dairen some days ago, and while we cannot help sympathising with the unfortunate men who are alleged to have been struck with an empty liquor receptacle by a skipper presumably aggrieved, their case might have been much worse had their alleged assailant, instead of committing a physical assault (as he is stated to have done), compelled them to drink some of the poison which, under the guise of Scotch Whiskey, is doled out from beautifully labelled bottles in certain establishments at the northern port.

LOCAL NATURAL HISTORY.

The effort to collect various Hongkong reptiles for the Zoo has fostered interest amongst local naturalists, and we know of several residents who are now on the lookout for snakes and the various kinds of lizards, which they hope to capture alive. We have had one report of a very big ground lizard seen in the vicinity of Magazine Gap, and of green vipers at Black's Link, so pass the news on to enthusiasts who might desire to know where to search for their quarry. There is one thing about the effort being made on behalf of the Zoo which immediately strikes a local naturalist—that it is a great pity similar, or greater, energy cannot be devoted towards the formation and stocking of a local zoological gardens, not necessarily on a large scale. A nucleus of sorts already exists in our public botanical garden. Later, something might be done to reorganise the Hongkong museum. It requires half the present specimens destroyed, and replaced by new ones, properly arranged and labelled, and then efficiently displayed and carefully preserved. It is a shame that the present collections, such as they are, should ever have been allowed to get into the deplorable state of decay which characterises them. For a start, twice the present accommodation will be required.

We know that there is money available for a properly conducted museum. It is an institution of such educational value when efficiently run, that it would not be at all out of the way to devote a sum of money from the revenue which would otherwise be earmarked for school needs. We also know that there are several people in the Colony who possess sufficient technical knowledge of different branches of zoology to give most valuable assistance in the forming of an up-to-date museum. Eventually, Hongkong might have a paid expert to devote his whole time to directing the establishment, with a trained Chinese curator for assistant. It would not be a very expensive charge on our revenue, and the benefits would outweigh any considerations which parsimony might indicate as "difficulties in the way." What the Colony really wants first of all, as we stated in a leading article nearly a year ago, is a coming together of local residents interested in botany and zoology, to form an association of a semi-scientific nature, which would be able to co-operate in research work and studies that might have valuable results. We know from personal experience how easily species of the mammalia or insectivora new to science can be discovered in these regions by even the amateur zoologist, provided he works in conjunction with a society that places valuable assistance and necessary material at his disposal. Other important places in the East have their Natural History Societies and branches of the Royal Asiatic Society, so why should not Hongkong as well?

Sun's Position.

Chinese and foreigners as well are speculating as to whether the reverses now being suffered by the Cantonese troops, coupled with the disappearance from Canton of several cruisers of the former Northern squadron, mean the beginning of the end of the Sun Yat-sen regime in the South. Ever since Dr. Sun's return to Canton early in the year, he has been in the position of a man fighting with his back to the wall. Military operations, necessitated by the pressure of outside forces, have almost exclusively occupied his attention; there has been little or no opportunity to settle down to really productive work. Canton has become a militarised city, in which all other factors have been subservient to military necessities. The people have suffered much as a consequence, and there have been enforced orders and edicts which should have no place in a well-governed community. The military have been top-dogs, possibly much against Dr. Sun's will and desire, and we have never envied the position in which the civil authorities have found themselves. Dr. Sun has been able to accomplish nothing.

Future Prospects.

What are the portents now? If General Chan should become victorious and Dr. Sun is again compelled to flee, what will happen? Are we to have the same old business over again: the same tussle between the "ins" and the "outs," intrigue and spying, with Hongkong possibly as a base for these undesirable activities? We hope not, but we fear that would be the prospect. At any rate, that has been the history of Canton ever since the Republic was established. It has been a city which has known little peace, and the wonder is that long before this it has not reached the point of economic exhaustion. Only the wonderful resourcefulness of remarkable people has prevented such a calamity. What a picture is conjured up by thoughts of this great city, enjoying an uninterrupted spell of peace and progress! Then real prosperity would come, and the people would all share in the good times. Such is the possibility. We would that it were soon to be realised. Unhappily, personal enmity prevents the rapprochement to such an outcome. There was a time when Dr. Sun and General Chan worked in harness together. If they would but sink their differences and come together again, both working for the common weal, then there would be strong hope of our fondest dreams coming true.

DEATH OF MR. BONAR LAW.

BRITAIN'S FIRST BUSINESS-MAN PREMIER.

Warm Tributes from Empire Leaders.

A Reuter message received over-night records the death of the Right Hon. Mr. Andrew Bonar Law.

A further cable says numerous messages of regret at Mr. Bonar Law's death have been published.

Mr. Baldwin writes saying Mr. Bonar Law sacrificed his life in the country's service.

Mr. Bruce, the Australian Premier, says the Empire felt the utmost confidence in him. "We have seen no nobler courage than his, and no more gallant self-sacrifice."

Mr. MacKenzie King, the Canadian Premier, writes that Mr. Bonar Law's unblemished career, unflinching courage, sound judgment and administrative capacity have been of incalculable service to the Empire.

General Smuts says Mr. Bonar Law's partnership with Mr. Lloyd George was of priceless value to the country and the world. "I deeply regretted his absence from the Peace Conference, where his sanity and caution would have prevented some of our worst mistakes."

A New York message says Mr. Lloyd George has arrived there. In a statement to the press recalling his and Mr. Bonar Law's close co-operation during the last years of war and the first years of peace, he said:—"Nobody could wish for a more loyal, more sagacious, or more helpful partner in times of emergency." Hundreds of Welsh singers, assembled at the station to greet Mr. Lloyd George, hushed their songs of welcome and sang a hymn in memory of Mr. Bonar Law.

In a speech at Swansea, Mr. Baldwin eulogised the late Mr. Bonar Law, whose loss was, he said, irreparable.

A somewhat pathetic figure has passed away in the late Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, P.C., LL.D., the first business man to become Premier of Great Britain, and one who pluckily took up the reins of office at a critical period in the country's history despite almost chronic ill-health.

Mr. Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick in 1858, the son of a clergyman, and was educated later at Glasgow, his mother's home town. He entered "politics" about the beginning of this century, becoming Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade in 1902; but his Parliamentary career began in 1900, when he was elected Unionist M.P. for the Blackfriars division of Glasgow. He became Leader of the Opposition in 1911, was Secretary of State for the Colonies from 1915 to 1916, a member of the War Cabinet from 1916 to 1919, and Chancellor of the Exchequer from 1916 to 1918. These were only some of the various posts he held, more or less successfully. He became Premier officially last November, after the General Election and defeat of the Lloyd George party. As was anticipated, his health gave way, and he resigned last May, in favour of Mr. Stanley Baldwin.

When he became Prime Minister, a political writer said of him that "though not popular himself, he wielded as much power over the imagination as any statesman who is personally and pleasantly popular."

The late Mr. Bonar Law bent himself quite early to the cultivation of politics. His grasp of economics, a passion for statistics, and a subtle and convincing style in debate, carried him into office in four years—most fittingly at the Board of Trade. When the Unionist debacle came in 1905, he turned his attention to the leisure of Opposition to the support of Tariff Reform, a cause for which he held almost a lifelong affection. He proved to be a stronger man in Opposition than even in office, and he was an opponent that the Liberal Ministers leaped to walk warily with. By the time the great Budget struggle of 1909-10 was reached he had proved his capacity for very high office indeed, and the constitutional struggle of 1911 gave him further opportunity. His first reward was to be elected in that year leader of the Unionist party.

When the stress of war fell upon the Liberal Government of Mr. Asquith, he responded without hesitation to the invitation to share the responsibilities of government and of national defence.

The first Coalition saw him Secretary for the Colonies, and later a member of the War Cabinet; the second gave him the Chancellorship of the Exchequer after he had refused an invitation to form a Government after Mr. Asquith fell in 1916. His financial genius grappled successfully with the problem of raising money for the war.

IMPRESSIONS FROM THE HOUSE.

A friend of the late Mr. Bonar Law contributed a sketch of the new Premier to the Times on his appointment a year ago, and the following extracts give an interesting impression of the man:—"It may be said at once of Mr. Bonar Law that if he is not a great party leader he is certainly an astute parliamentarian. Mr. Bonar Law won his spurs in the House of Commons by one of his extraordinarily clever speeches. I well remember the occasion. One night in the early nineties, in a half-empty House, he rose from a back bench and spoke for half an hour on the fiscal question. Without a scrap of manuscript, he reeled off a speech tightly packed with facts and figures, never hesitating for a word, or a figure from the first sentence to the last. It hypnotised the House. On the Treasury Bench sat Joseph Chamberlain, almost the only Minister in the Chamber. He adjusted his monocle, turned round to the new M.P., inquired his name, and at the close cheered warmly. Bonar Law had deeply impressed the great Imperialist leader, and his political future was assured. From the first he loved the House, and the House liked the man. They found in Bonar Law

DAY BY DAY.

WHEN THE BOSS ASKS YOU WHAT YOU THINK ABOUT A MATTER, TELL HIM WHAT YOU THINK AND NOT WHAT YOU THINK HE THINKS.—Colman's Car.

Cricket notes, by "The Armchair Critic," together with two cartoons, will appear in tomorrow's Telegraph.

The following telegram has been received from His Britannic Majesty's Consul at Amoy:—"Quarantine imposed on arrivals from Hongkong on account of small pox."

The two sampan women before Mr. Justice Gompertz, at the Criminal Sessions, yesterday, on a charge of unlawful possession of a revolver and 86 rounds of ammunition, were each sentenced to six months' hard labour.

For being in unlawful possession of 21 automatic pistols, six revolvers and 3,574 rounds of ammunition, a Chinese was sentenced to four years' hard labour, by Mr. Justice Gompertz, at the Criminal Sessions, yesterday afternoon.

Meetings of the shareholders of the Hongkong Hotel Company, Ltd., and the Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., were held this morning. Mr. J. Scott Harston presiding. Resolutions confirming the decision of recent meetings with regard to amalgamation, and an extraordinary resolution were passed, changing the name to "The Hongkong and Shanghai Hotels, Limited."

"Hearts are Trumps," showing at the Coronet this week, lends itself admirably to the requirements of the cinema. There are several striking scenes two in particular, of the Royal Academy on opening day, and a view of an avalanche, being fine examples of stagecraft. Alice Torry, of "Prisoner of Zenda" fame, has the leading role, and the direction is by the now well known Rex Ingram.

LOCAL BOXING.

THE REGIMENTAL TOURNAMENT.

Owing to the heavy rains, it was impossible to continue the King's farewell boxing tournament last night. The programme arranged for that date, however, will take place to-night, the semi-finals on Thursday and the finals on Saturday, commencing each night at 8 o'clock.

Some fine contests are promised, and to-night's events will comprise novices' welterweight, regimental middleweight, regimental lightweight, novices' featherweight, regimental featherweight, regimental welterweight, regimental bantamweight, garrison open welter and novices' lightweight.

someone with a singularly winning manner, who could set forward a business case with a certain modest confidence which began by securing attention and ended by making converts. This naturally pleased the Unionists, but I doubt if they would have made Bonar Law their leader had there not been a hopeless party split as to whether Mr. Austen Chamberlain or Mr. Walter Long should assume the mantle of Mr. Balfour. As there was no possibility of agreement on the several claims of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Long, Mr. Bonar Law was called in as a sort of general compromise. There is no doubt that Mr. Bonar Law was an unrelenting worker, and he never spared himself in grappling with his tasks. The most valuable years of his public life were not spent as the leader of the Unionist Opposition. They were spent when he joined the Coalition Government, and worked with untiring energy and patriotism under the leadership of Mr. Asquith and Mr. Lloyd George for the common good against the common enemy.

It can truly be said of him that, while not brilliant, he nobly did his duty to the best of his ability, and that is as fine an epitaph as anyone could wish to have.

DR. SUN SPEAKS.

TALKS OF MILITARY SUCCESS.

News reaches us from Canton to the effect that Dr. Sun Yat-sen has returned there from the Bocca Tigris forts, and on Monday he invited members of various parties to a gathering in his headquarters.

In the course of a speech, Dr. Sun stated that through the bravery of his officers and men, the right, left and central forces of General Chan's army had been forced to retreat, and peace might be restored within ten days. Continuing, he stated: "Our party has been in Canton now for nearly a year, but owing to military affairs it has been impossible to carry out good administrative work. There have been painful and bitter sufferings, but if we leave and the enemy comes, those sufferings will be even worse still. The revolutionary ideas we are carrying out are for the benefit of the people and the country. Our aims must be realised, and we must not give up for fear of being defeated. If, however, we should be defeated this time, we shall surely come again in greater strength. Fortunately, success is now on our side and the military operations may shortly be concluded. Then a big sum of money will be needed for the disarmament of soldiers and sending them back to their native country, or in giving relief to the families of those killed." In conclusion, Dr. Sun appealed to the various parties to form a committee for the raising of funds for these purposes.

AN ORIGINAL JURY.

THEIR DECISION IN MURDER TRIAL.

After an absence of forty minutes this morning, the jury hearing the murder charge against the Indian before the Chief Justice, at the Criminal Sessions, returned to the box with no definite decision.

Speaking on behalf of his fellow members, the foreman said:—We think that the prisoner, having quarrelled for some slight cause, was jostled by a crowd, and, being a stranger, imagined himself attacked by them. He loaded his rifle to intimidate them, and when they separated fired at one of those he thought to be his attackers, intending to disable him only.

The jury wished for his Lordship's direction as to how their decision stood in law. As it was then nearly two o'clock, his Lordship decided to adjourn until tomorrow morning.

It will be remembered that the Crown's case (conducted by Mr. H. K. Holmes) was that after an altercation with a coolie, accused loaded his carbine and fired at him, but the bullet struck another man, who subsequently died.

The defence (conducted by Mr. Campbell Prosser, instructed by Mr. A. el Arculli) was that accused met four men, who attempted to take his carbine away from him. There was a struggle. Accused took a charge from his pouch, showing it to one of his assailants, and then loaded. Two of the four men disappeared and accused shot at deceased.

The Crown Solicitor and counsel for the defence addressed the Court this morning, during the course of which his Lordship intimated that supposing the jury accepted the story of the Crown's witnesses, that accused after an altercation shot at the coolie—the shot bringing about the wounding and subsequent death of deceased—then he would direct them that in law that was murder, unless there was some legal justification.

Supposing the jury arrived at the conclusion that there was a struggle between accused and the coolie, prisoner having loaded his carbine—which he had no right to do—and that as a result of that struggle the rifle went off and brought about the death of deceased, then his Lordship would direct them to bring in a verdict of manslaughter. If the jury did not believe the Crown's point of view but accepted the story of the prisoner, that four men attacked him and he deliberately shot at deceased, that would be murder unless accused was justified—unless he was afraid of his life or person, or unless circumstances actually justified him in deliberately firing.

THE "LOONGSANG."

USEFUL FOR PIER HEAD?

We have received the following letter for publication:—

Sir, The Government is advertising for tenders for the removal of the wreck of the s.s. "Loongsang." Why waste the money?

She seems to be in a very convenient position to form the head of a decent pier of wharf. Couldn't she be filled with concrete to form the superstructure of such a convenience?

Yours etc.
PIERYHO.
Hongkong, Oct. 30th, 1923.

SIR JOHN OAKLEY.

PRESENT FROM HONGKONG SURVEYORS.

An interesting little ceremony took place in the lounge of the Hongkong Hotel this morning, when Sir John Oakley, who is here in connection with the valuation of military lands, was made the recipient of a present from local members of the Surveyors' Institution, of which body he is a past President and at present a member of the Executive Committee.

During his stay in the Colony, Sir John entertained to dinner the local members of the body named, and in order to return the compliment an informal gathering took place this morning in the Hongkong Hotel, when Mr. A. E. Wright, the Building Authority, who is a Fellow of the Institution and the senior member of the organisation in Hongkong, presented Sir John with a mah jong set. The recipient made a suitable reply.

We understand that Sir John Oakley leaves for Home on Friday.

EAST RIVER FIGHTING.

SEIGE OF WAICHOW RAISED.

There is no further news from Sheklung today regarding the fighting on the East River front, but it is notified that the commanding officer of coolies is proceeding with intense briskness in Canton.

An official report from General Chan's headquarters states that the force attacking Waichow city was defeated and dispersed on the 26th instant, the seige being raised and six machine-guns, 400 rifles and a few hundred prisoners captured.

It is rumoured that General Chan's forces which captured Shum Chun and Ping Wu will proceed to attack the Bocca Tigris forts, in co-operation with naval units.

A report is in circulation that Dr. Sun has caused the arrest of the naval officers who did not have time to return to the cruisers which recently deserted him, and has had them shot.

LOCAL "RUGGER."

CLUB SUCCESSFUL IN THE OPENING MATCH.

The opening match of the Rugger season was played at Happy Valley last evening, when the Club were successful against a Navy XV, by 8 points (1 goal and 1 try) to 3 points (1 try). Skinner opened the scoring for the Club in the first half. Bowker's kick just failing to register, the extra two points. There was no further score up to half-time.

In the second half, a successful three quarter movement by the Naval men enabled them to draw level, the kick going wide of the post. From the kick-off the Club forwards gained possession and covered considerable ground by vigorous play. Eventually Bowker secured and scored a clever try under the post. The same player made no mistake with the kick, thus putting the Club five points ahead, which lead they maintained until the whistle blew for time.

For Baby's brothers and sisters, too!

To grow from babyhood into sturdy, happy childhood, your children need a food rich in body-building qualities, and a food that will not tax their delicate digestions. Plenty of milk is what they require, milk in its safest, most suitable form—Glaxo.

Glaxo is pure, rich milk, made easily digestible, and germ-free by the Glaxo Process. Packed in an air-tight, sealed tin, safe from contamination, it safeguards the children from diarrhea and many other diseases borne by ordinary milk.

VICE-CHANCELLOR OF OXFORD.

Successor to Dr. Farnell.

London, Oct. 10.—Doctor Farnell handed over the Vice-Chancellorship of Oxford to Professor Joseph Wells, Warden of Wadham College, to-day.

In his speech, he referred, in an amusing manner, to the young life of Oxford, for whose benefit he had made bans that made him notorious.

He said that women students gave hardly any trouble, for when they asked for new privileges and relaxations, it was easy to refuse, and if they could only curb their passion for cafes between breakfast and lunch, they would be an exemplary body.

Young men naturally gave trouble and concern, and yet his experience in the past three years had not lowered his high opinion of them. Two enemies of industry were indolence and distraction.

AUTOMATIC TELEPHONES.

The largest automatic private branch telephone exchange in the country, that at the new London County Hall, came into operation last month, when the manual service was transferred to automatic working. The new plant comprises equipment for 700 extension telephones, of which 650 will work automatically and fifty manually, and provides for growth up to 900 extensions.

BRUNSWICK RECORDS

ARTISTIC companions of Brunswick Phonographs. These Records are made under the direction of great interpreters men who have the power and faculty of developing musical selections as they would be played by the composers.

Just as there are directors for the opera, the stage, the orchestra, we now have directors for records.

This means that each Brunswick Record is not only the work of some accomplished artist but is accompanied by the soundings of a renowned director.

This is why Brunswick Records rise above the quantities most records have in common. Brunswicks are more than title and artist. They bear the impress of some guiding hand. One who knows how to bring out the inherent qualities, the hidden beauty, the magnetic personality, the more spiritual intuitions of the composers.

Ask to hear these records. They will play on any phonograph with steel or blue needles. Made by the House of Brunswick—a name renowned in the world of music. Compare Brunswick Records with others. Be their sale price! Look for something entirely different—something sweeter, richer, truer! You'll find it in full measure in the new Brunswick discs!

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

The counsel who observed at London Sessions that he had been in London for over thirty-five years and had never been to Maida Vale may have shared the tremors of Mr. Chesterton, who confessed quite a number of years ago that he had never been to St. John's Wood. "I should be afraid of the innumerable sight of fire-trucks, afraid to come upon a blood-red cup and the beating of the wings of the Eagle." But to few of us is it given to know London as a whole says a writer in a Home paper; and there can be little doubt that most of our ignorances are bliss. Popular, one is told, is not nearly so pretty as its name; and there is a place mentioned on the tram placards, "Abbey Wood," which cannot be expected to come up to expectations.

Game was a great luxury for our great grandfathers, who had to bestir themselves in order to secure any of that brought up on the coaches by drivers, who drove deals with poachers along the road. Sometimes expectation was sadly disappointed. There is a record of the year 1800, of the ill-luck of an epicure from Fish-street-hill, anxiously watching for the arrival of the Kentish coach at the King's Head in the Borough in order to purchase a hare from the coachman for his Sunday's dinner. An outside passenger, learning his errand, brought him under the gate and sold him a very large one as he thought, for 9s., which, however, upon his return home, proved to be a badger.

It is a mistake to think that "road hogs" of whom we are hearing so much at present, are an invention of the motoring age. Says a Home paper Mr. Cairns has just reminded us that motorists are not the only road hogs, and the truth is that the road hog appeared on the first road made. In the 11th century and for some time later the roads had only one width of good going, with a quagmire on either side. If two carriages met there would be a long wrangle and possibly a fight for the sound surface. Then there were the road hogs of the towns, fine gentlemen who cantered through the filthy streets, sending showers of mud over pedestrians or coachmen, who drove in the gutters with even more dire results. And the outcry against the first "flying machines" was as loud as that against modern ones.

Street markets are a familiar sight in the poorer parts of London. After the war many enterprising men invested their savings in a barrow and stock, and the trade is known to be brisk and profitable. But the street traders are liable to be "moved on" from street to street. Shopkeepers with heavy rents to pay object to barrow-men setting up in rivalry opposite to their establishments, and a Bill is before Parliament to give the authorities more control over the costers. Recently, the street traders, who have an association of their own, met to organize resistance to this new attack. One speaker said they were being oppressed by commercial combinations which were un-English and Americanized. The street trader was the man who would get up at 2 o'clock in the morning in order to go to Covent Garden and the other markets. What he wanted was a quick turnover, and as long as he could get a living he was satisfied.

Partridge-shooting in company with the Iron Duke was apt to prove a dangerous pastime for all in his vicinity except the partridges, comments a London journal. He nearly blinded Lord Granville when out shooting with him in 1820. A few years later as Lady Shelley records in her diary—Wellington, then one of the house party at Maresfield Park, "contrived to empty two powder horns and a half with very little to show for it. After wounding a retriever and peppering the keeper's gaiters, he sprinkled the bare arms of an old woman who chanced to be washing clothes at her window." Lady Shelley's grandson, Richard Edgcumbe, relates that on the occasion of another shoot at Maresfield, "My mother, then about ten years old, after watching the Duke's proceedings for some time, burst into tears. 'What's this?' exclaimed Lady Shelley. 'Fear in the presence of the hero of Waterloo! Stand close behind the Duke: he will protect you.' She was then too young to realise that it was probably the only safe place."

It would seem idle to discuss the prospects of Papyrus against the pick of the American three-year-olds because we are quite in the dark regarding the current form in that country and how it stands in comparison with our own form, says a mail paper. The latest good-class English horse to run in the United States was Paragon. Sent from here in July of last year, he ran thrice in the autumn, finishing second, third, and fourth respectively. In the circumstances, his form was regarded as satisfactory, but it is clear from Paragon's running that we shall be optimistic in assuming that our horses are superior to those of the American Turf. Now we have in Papyrus a very fair example of our Derby winners. He is a colt who combines good speed with fine stamina, and if the race comes off it will be highly interesting to see how he shapes against the best of the Americans. The odds are obviously in favour of the country in which the match is run. Papyrus may find the journey and the climate against him, while the dirt track will certainly not be in his favour. At the same time he is obviously well-suited to a sharp round course, as he convincingly demonstrated at Chester.

DRUGGING UP TO DATE.

A Japanese, wishing to go to Lyons from Paris, decided to make the journey by motor-car as he had missed his train, and was in a hurry. The chauffeur is alleged to have been very attentive to him during the journey, and to have offered him a light-coloured cigarette, which the Japanese accepted and smoked. Shortly he felt drowsy and went to sleep. When he awoke he found himself by the side of the road, and his pocket-book, containing 40,000 yen, was missing.
